SciDyn Introduces Cost-Effective Calling Card/Billing System

CHERRY HILL, N.J., June 13, 2002/PRNewswire/ -- Science Dynamics Corporation, SciDyn, (OTCBB: SIDY), a leading developer of advanced telecommunications solutions, introduced today the MinuteMan, a calling card/billing system platform offering all the necessary components demanded by today's carriers.

The MinuteMan provides a low-cost, effective, turnkey calling card validation and billing system with an IP gateway and PSTN interface that is scalable and easily upgradeable. The platform provides interactive multi-language voice response, prepaid and debit card processing, programmable call rating and supports both pre and post-paid billing accounts.

“As market conditions have continued to challenge the telecommunications industry, SciDyn has moved forward to effect new efficiencies and support new services to drive revenue,” stated Alan Bashforth, SciDyn CEO and President. “The MinuteMan is the first of a new range of products from SciDyn designed to add features and functionality to existing PSTN and next generation IP telephony systems. The MinuteMan provides a scalable, fully featured calling card and voice announcement system at an extremely low price.”

SciDyn's design provides 100% vendor compatibility without complicated configurations or protocol interoperability. For more information about the MinuteMan Calling Card/Billing System and other SciDyn products, contact SciDyn at +1 (856) 424-0068 or sales@scidyn.com.
